1. Welcome

Malcolm Turnbull opened the meeting and the agenda was adopted.

2. CEO Report

Jonas Moberg provided a set of green hydrogen policy updates including on the upcoming REPowerEU Plan (due to be published on 18 May) and a CEO report including on the Green Hydrogen Standard, regional green hydrogen alliances, message to COP27 and the campaign for 100 million tonnes of green hydrogen by 2030.

3. The Green Hydrogen Global Assembly

Jonas provided an overview of the Green Hydrogen Global Assembly which would begin on 17 May. It will bring together ministers and government leaders from 15 countries; CEOs and leaders from the world's foremost green hydrogen companies including Plug Power, thyssenkrup, Acciona, H2 Green Steel, Korea Zinc, ACWA Power, Fortescue Future Industries, Adani, Avaada, CWP Global, Enel and Envision; and civil society leaders. The assembly aims to see global progress achieved and new initiatives launched on scaling up the green hydrogen sector including: the Green Hydrogen Standard; the Green Hydrogen Country Portal; the "100 by 2030" campaign - a global call for at least 100 million tonnes of green hydrogen to be produced annually by 2030 – for climate and security; a message to COP27; Green hydrogen contracting – for people and planet; and the launch of the Africa Green Hydrogen Alliance. He thanked all board members for their active involvement in sessions taking place over the following two days.

4. GH2 Q3 and Q4 2022 plans

Jonas presented an overview of plans for the rest of 2022 including on the Green Hydrogen Standard (piloting, pre-feasibility tools, interaction with EU and national standards; and establishment of a multistakeholder advisory committee); government engagement; country portal; development finance institutions roundtable; next steps on green hydrogen contracting (expansion of the guidance and capacity building); taking forward the '100 by 2030' campaign and engagement with civil society organisations and other key (green) hydrogen initiatives.

5. Malcolm Turnbull thanked board members and closed the meeting.
